Ask O.K. on Addition to Rutledge School

With Ann Rutledge school at Lincoln Estates being in the same predicament as hundreds of other schools, more pupils than space for them, the directors are asking the voters of the district to save the situation.

A two-room addition to the school is needed immediately, it was explained, and it is estimated that the cost will run to approximately $23,000.

To raise this money the board has called a bond referendum for Aug. 1, Aug. 1 is a Monday. The school will serve as the polling place and ballots will be cast during a 7-hour period from 12 noon to 7 p.m.

Ann Rutledge school has an enrollment of 90 and with the growth of Lincoln Estates the school population will increase, it was pointed out. The school has two rooms and two teachers. This past year the overloading was solved in part by sending 49th and eighth grade pupils to the Frankfort school. But that can't be done this year, it was said, because Frankfort school is getting crowded too. It can take care of the pupils from within the Frankfort district but not from other districts, it was said, so the only thing left for the Ann Rutledge district to do is build an addition to the school.

The plans call for two rooms, each 35 by 24 feet in size, with a full basement. The plans include flush toilets and septic tank. The addition will match the rest of the building architecturally.

The board hopes to have both of the proposed new rooms ready this fall. This will mean the hiring of additional teachers. The board would prefer to hire a man for the posts.

Hold Funeral Rites At Mokena Tuesday For Mrs. Eggers, 81

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Emma Eggers, 81, of Mokena with burial in St. John's cemetery.

Mrs. Eggers, who had been a resident of the Mokena area for about 60 years, died at her home Saturday afternoon, July 16, following a brief illness.

She resided at Mokena on McGovern st. with a daughter, Miss Laura Eggers. The only other immediate survivor is a brother, Herman Woodrich, also of Mokena. A son died in infancy.

Mrs. Eggers was the former Emma Woodrich. She was born in North township in Cook county, near the Will county line.

After her marriage to Charles Eggers the couple moved to a farm in Frankfort township. Mr. Eggers retired in 1944 and the family moved to Mokena. Mr. Eggers died two years later.

Mrs. Eggers was active in affairs of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church most of her life and was a member of St. John's Guild.

The funeral rites for Mrs. Eggers were held from the church at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. William J. Riemann officiating.

STUDY PLANS FOR PLAY DAY

Plans for a play day at Mokena community park are now being considered by the board and J. Herbert Wrath who has charge of the recreation program there.

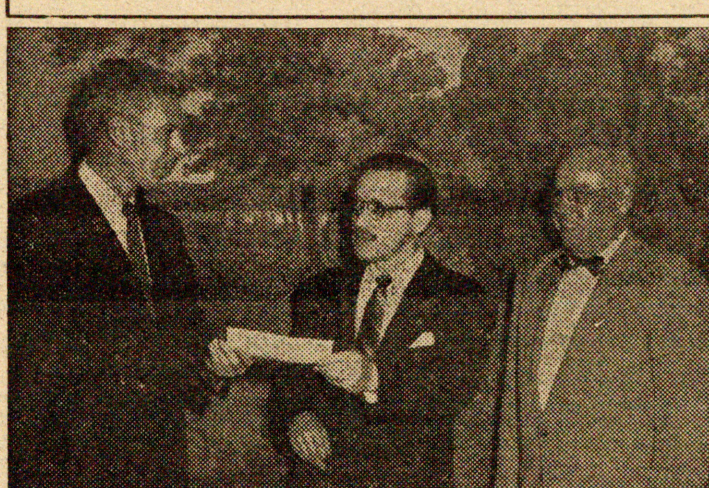

A date for the event has been set - Aug. 6, but details of the affair will not be announced until later, when those in charge will have had an opportunity to work them out.

In the meantime the board is hopeful that more adults will use the recreational facilities of the park. It is a fine spot for picnics, board members pointed out, and grounds designed for various games may be reserved by groups by contacting Mr. Wrath.

Since school closed the park has served hundreds of youngsters as a playground. Mr. Wrath is at the park every day and is in charge of the play activities.

The younger children have the use of the fields and grounds in the forenoon, between 9 and 12 o'clock, while the older youngsters take over in the afternoons, from 1 to 5.

LIONS CLUB DONATES SCHOLARSHIPS

New Lenox Lions Ready For Sixth Annual Festival

The New Lenox Lions club will open its sixth annual two-day auction and festival tomorrow night July 22—at their headquarters—the Lions den.

Those in charge say that an unusually large collection of goods will be auctioned off tomorrow and Saturday nights. Pick-up crews were still busy last night and today adding to the list of material for the auction.

There seems to be a bit of everything among the goods to be sold, including an electric stove, beds, tables, chairs, day-ports, yard furniture, and so on and so on.

There will be a dozen or more kinds of games and as special attractions for the youngsters there will be a miniature train on which they may ride and in the building adjacent to the Den there will be a puppet show.

Ice Cream and Cake

The ladies of the Lions will operate a booth where ice cream and cake will be sold.

Those in charge are hopeful of attracting large crowds and even larger receipts. Proceeds from the affair will be devoted to many enterprises that the Lions carry on for the children and the people of the community.

One of the things that the Lions do that the general public know little about, is the fact that the club donates the use of its building for as many as 141 meetings a year. This free use of the building is extended to such organizations as the 4-H clubs, Brownies, Royal Neighbors, Youth club, various ladies auxiliaries and many others.

Many Projects

As a part of its sight saving program, the New Lenox Lions have donated many pairs of eye glasses for school children and at Christmas the club delivers baskets of food to the needy.

The club also holds Halloween and Christmas parties for the youngsters every year and in January are the ice skating races with prizes given in all age groups. In February, the club sends the school patrol boys to Chicago for the Sports show.

The New Lenox Lions have now undertaken the job of supporting the Small Fry league, buying uniforms, bats and balls and supplying the supervising and coaching of more than 80 boys. A new ball park also was constructed at the Oakview school grounds.

The Lions point out that they have been able to do these things only because of the support given them by the public. They hope the support will continue.

Numerous awards will be made at the festival tomorrow and Saturday, including a ventilating fan, grill, wading pool, lawn furniture and other items.

MOKENA GIRL IS WINNER OF SCHOLARSHIP

A Mokena girl, Marcia Louise Gaddis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gaddis, was one of five, out of more than a score of high school seniors who took the examinations, to win scholarships at the University of Illinois.

The examinations were taken last April 30 under the supervision of County Superintendent of Schools Vern Crackel.

The winners are entitled to free instruction at the U. of I. for a period of four years, which means they are exempt from payment of all fees, tuition, matriculation, term or incidental.

Marcia Gaddis was thrilled to learn that she had won a scholarship and only hopes that notice has not come too late for her to be able to make use of it this year.

The enrollment at the university is so heavy that it is difficult for students to find living accommodations at Champaign or Urbana unless they book them early, usually first part of June.

Marcia Gaddis

When the examinations were taken last April these taking them were told that the university, where the papers were sent for grading, would announce the winners on or about June 1 so they would have opportunity to book rooms for the coming school year. But the results were not announced until the latter part of last week.

Miss Gaddis took the examination on home economics, a subject in which she plans to major at the university.

She was graduated from Joliet high school last month. Her father is an engineer for the Illinois Bell Telephone company in Chicago, and she has a sister and a brother, both older than herself.

Her winners in the examination were Marie Ann Matesi, Lockport; Roger K. Chisholm, Crete; David J. Cade, Joliet and William T. Dishman, Wilmington.

MODEL HOME OPEN HOUSE

J. Spector, builder and developer, has built another new home in Lakeside Subdivision on Francis road, New Lenox which he has announced he will show to the public this Sunday, July 24 in an open house. The hours will be from 9 o'clock in the morning to 5 in the afternoon.

The board also gave final O.K. on the plans for a subdivision that is being developed by Norval Robinson at LaPorte and Wolf roads.

The board also instructed Village Clerk Alvin Sorenson to make arrangements with a veterinary for a clinic at which Mokena dog owners will be able to get their pets inoculated against rabies. At the same time a drive will be made to collect dog license fees. Village vehicle license fees are practically 100 per cent collected, it was reported.

Formal permission to use Front street for the Mokena Homecoming festival was granted by the board.

Building permits issued in the past month are as follows: Roy Lembke, house and garage $11,500; F. Baudry, siding $500; Herman Lorenz, repairs, less than $100; C. Gerrie, patio, $100; Willy A. Muehler, house, $9,000; George Devlin, new roof, $100; Everett Creech, new house, $50; Hunter Perry, separate room for turnaces, $3,000 and John Marti, screened porch, $100.

The board adopted a resolution this week praising the work of Harold Miller as village treasurer and expressing regret over his retirement from office. Mr. Miller is now living near Orland Park. He has been succeeded as treasurer by Durward Fant. Mr. Fant, who resides on Front street, is a customs expert with an import and export firm in Chicago.

Paper Installs New Typecaster To Serve Readers Better

In order to serve the readers and advertisers of this paper better and maintain progress, the management has installed an addition to its composing department in the form of a type casting machine.

This machine, which is manufactured by the Ludlow Typograph Co., casts lines of type. A linotype also casts lines of type but they are set up differently. A linotype has a keyboard, and when the operator presses a key a brass mould called a matrix, an oblong bit of metal v-shaped on the inside, containing a letter, character or number is released and when a line is completed, whether it be made up of words or figures, the matrices are sent on their way to encounter molten metal and the line or slug is thus formed. A press of a lever and the cast line is released from the machine and later assembled with other lines preparatory to printing.

Printing plants - newspapers as well as job shops - also have cases of individual pieces of type. These pieces are selected and put together in what is called a "stick" to form words. Since the handling of such type is done manually the process is known as hand setting, as opposed to machine set.

Use of the Ludlow employs a combination of machine setting and hand setting, and gives us new style and sizes of type faces.

The Ludlow, like a linotype, casts a line of type from passing matrices into a mould where they encounter molten metal and then released. But there is no keyboard on a Ludlow. The matrices are kept in a case, and are selected by the operator, locked into a device also called a "stick" and then pushed into the machine.

While one line is being cast another is being prepared so the process is almost continuous. The Ludlow saves time and space and assures one of an ample supply of letters. Cases to hold individual pieces of type would take up many, many times the amount of space required to store the matrices used in a Ludlow.

The lines cast with a Ludlow can be used for display advertising, job work or for headlines in the news sections.

This is an expensive piece of equipment but the management feels that the improved service it will insure is worth the cost.

Assessment Rolls Of Frankfort Twp. Are In Paper Today

In this issue will be found the assessment roll of real estate and personal property of Frankfort township for 1955. Taxpayers have until August 1 to file a complaint, if any, with the Board of Reviews, at the court house in Joliet.

Next week we will publish the same for New Lenox township.

The Mokena Homecoming is to be staged August 19-21. In connection with the event the committee is giving a dollar as a prize each week to the first person who calls in the correct answer to a question pertaining to earlier days in the village. This award can be won but once.

Last week's question was answered by Debbie Fant, with an assist by her mother, Mrs. Durwood Fant. The question dealt with the mineral springs of Mokena.

The answer is that the Mokena Mineral Springs Co., started in business in 1900 and for several years some 5000 bottles of the water were shipped out of Mokena, the enterprise giving employment to quite a number of persons. The spring is still in existence but is not being operated.

Marella Lehmann, chairman of the publicity committee, is in charge of these questions and the persons who have the answers are to call them in to her. The telephone number is 4561.

This week's question is an easy one - or is it? Who was the first mayor of Mokena?

Mrs. Lehmann points out that while the Homecoming quiz doesn't rave off in the figures of the Little Fooler, it is much easier.

SCRAP PAPER DRIVE

The Mokena Lions club are asking everyone, not to forget the scrap paper drive which they will conduct next Thursday evening, July 28. The money derived, will be used to help pay the rent for the Mokena library.

If possible, paper should be tied into bundles and placed in a handy spot.

At a pretty candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at 7 p.m. July 16 in the Tinley Park Methodist church, Miss Evelyn Yunker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Yunker, became the bride of Richard Goetsch, son of Mrs. John Goetsch. Both families are residents of Tinley Park.

Rev. Glenn Ames, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony. The altar was banked with palms, and double baskets of white carnations and three altar vases. Twin candelabra were lighted by the ushers. The pews were marked with white satin ribbon streamers and white gladioli.

Paul Graunke sang "Oh, Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Jochum, organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, John Yunker. Her full length gown of white satin with crystal and pearl trim was trimmed with seed pearls and rhinestones. A small pearl tiara caught the fingertip veil. She wore a rhinestone necklace, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a dainty white hanky, gift of her great-aunt.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Edna Arthur, sister of the bride, wore princess style full length orchid crystal gown with crown type head band to match. A yellow carnation crown crescent formed her bouquet.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Jennifer Yunker, Miss Lois Lindemann and Miss Joyce Schuldt wore gowns and crowns identical in design as the matron of honor, but in blue green. They carried crown crests of pink carnations. The tiny flower girl, niece of the bride, Janet Arthur, was dressed in green crystal, princess style and carried pink and yellow carnations. Jeffrey Arthur, nephew of the bride, proudly bore the white satin heart shaped pillow on which the bridal rings were carried.

Wayne Erdmann of Hinsdale served as best man with the guests being seated by Allen Paluogren of Chicago. Earl Yunker and Robert Goetsch of Tinley Park. The men were attired in summer formal.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Yunker chose a navy blue silk gown with white applique and white accessories. Mrs. Goetsch wore pink with lilac accessories. Both mothers wore white orchids.

Special honored guest was Mrs. C. H. Bettenhausen of Tinley Park. She was presented with a carnation corsage.

Four hundred guests were received at Cherry Hill Country club as buffet was served from a table centered with a 5 tier all white wedding cake which was cut by Mrs. Bertha Schuldt and Mrs. Minnie Felton, aunt and great aunt of the bride.

The young couple will reside at 1721 67th st. Tinley Park, and plan a delayed honeymoon in the fall.

The bride was employed at Cavett's drug store prior to her marriage while the bridegroom is with the Metal Wood Corporation of Chicago.

Mokena Scouts Win Honors At Morris Camp

Members of Boy Scout Troop 40, of Mokena, are home again after a week at the Scout Reservation at Morris, where the unit earned its "Honor Campers" award, a no small task to achieve in five days.

The boys enjoyed every moment of their stay and were reluctant to return. They found the camp cool, comfortable and with very few mosquitoes.

The troop is considerably elated over winning the "Honor Campers" award. To do that it had to have one of the inspection flags in its possession at least once; take a bird hike and list the birds; make at least one star hike; participate in two events on the Big Night program; have a least one stunt for Big Night campfire; take on a project at the reservation; have at least two boys advance at least one rank; make or add to a troop totem in the dining hall; have at least one boy receive an award on the rifle range; have at least three awards on the archery range and show proper troop and camping spirit.

In addition to all troop members, didn't know how to swim, did, while those who knew how practiced and improved their ability. And speaking of swimming John Kropp won third place for Mokena in the back stroke event.

On Big Night the Mokena canoe team of Robert Munch and John Kropp paddled a dead heat with troop 82 for more than half the length of the course and then only lost the race by the thickness of the paint on the canoe.

Each scout took his turn at K.P. for a day but with the use of paper plates the work was reduced to a minimum. 11 campsites were inspected daily with 1st, 2nd and 3rd place flags presented each evening at Retreat. The troop in 1st place furnished the color guard and had the privilege of flying its unit flag from the camp flag pole. Troop 40 finished first twice, second place twice and third place once.

Parents visited the camp for the Big Night program and again on Thursday night when the Order of the Arrow, an organization of cheerful service and a much coveted honor among scouts, was presented in full Indian costume.

Mokena scouts chosen by the Chief of the Fire were Robert Munch, Charles Kelch, Kenneth Lorenz, and Stanley Williams, a troop committeeman.

The following scouts passed requirements for first class in camping, clothing and equipment, health protection, measuring, map making, cooking and edible wild plants: Robert Munch, Charles Kelch and Stanley Lorenz.

Second class requirements were passed by Hassen Wagner, Ray Lorenz, James Murdock, Mark Muehler, Eric Jacobson, George Stanz, Gordon Richardson, James Miller and Dan Williams.

Twelve out of the 15 members of troop 40 returned home in possession of archery certificates. In rifle shooting Robert Munch received the Pro. Marksman award, and Gordon Richardson was awarded the compass championship for the week and received a neckerchief slide.

District Meeting Of Home Bureau To Be Held At Monee

The fall district meeting and luncheon of the Will county home bureau board is to be held at Monee, Sept. 21.

In the meantime home bureau members have been asked to keep in mind that the National Home Demonstration Council's annual convention is to be held in the Conrad Hilton hotel at Chicago August 21-25.

They also were reminded that the 4-H will have a food booth at the Pageant of Progress to be held in Joliet July 28-31 and home bureau members have been asked to donate two crust fruit pies. This pie deal, it was pointed out, is strictly on a voluntary basis.

The executive board of the home bureau met July 11 with Mrs. Frank Loucks, Bruce road township. Mrs. Harry Eaton, the president, was in charge, and others present included Miss Hazel Cowell, and Mesdames Ray Cann, Glen Eaton, Harlow Nicholson, Richard Erickson, Edward Berens, and Gailen Hollway. Also there were Eleanor Johnson, home advisor and Mary Carson, assistant. Reports were given.

The next regular meeting of the board will be held August 8 in the conference room at the farm bureau building, Joliet.

Cites Liability of Police in Damage Cases

A letter concerning the use of city or village police by the sheriff's office has been sent to all mayors, police commissioners and chiefs of police in all communities in Will county by State's Attorney Frank H. Masters, Jr.

The letter is accompanied by a photostat of an opinion obtained from Attorney General Latham Castle by Mr. Masters at the request of Sheriff Roy C. Doerfler.

The sheriff had pointed out that police officers of various municipalities in the county are requested frequently to assist his office in response to calls regarding violations of law in unincorporated areas of the county, inasmuch as the sheriff's force is too small to cover the county and the men that he does have are engaged in other business for the office.

What the sheriff wanted to know was in case he calls the police out from a municipality, is such municipality liable in damages for personal injuries suffered by citizens thru alleged negligence of such officers in connection with the operation of police vehicles while engaged in performing their duties.

The attorney general's opinion covered two major points - one, that as conservator of the peace the sheriff is authorized to call on all persons for assistance in enforcing the law, and therefore all police departments in the county and all police officers are obligated, by law, to respond to the sheriff's call when he requires their assistance in connection with the enforcement of law. And two - that while municipalities, cities and villages, do not have liability in connection with accidents occurring thru the operation of their police vehicles, either when being operated in connection with city or village business, or at the call of the sheriff, nevertheless, the individual police officers do have liability for their own personal neglect in the performance of their duties.

State's Attorney Masters points out that while, undoubtedly, all cities and villages maintaining police vehicles protect such vehicles and their officers operating them with adequate insurance coverage, nevertheless, in view of the fact that individual police officers do have liability for their own personal neglect in the performance of their duties, he suggests that it is important that the fact and evidence of such insurance protection be accurately checked.

This is the Rev. John Vautrin, new pastor of the Green Garden Methodist church. In last week's paper another name was inadvertently carried in the identification of the Rev. Mr. Vautrin's picture. Sorry Mr. Vautrin.

TINLEY NINE DROPS TILT TO FLOSSMOOR 2-0

On Sunday, July 17, the Sportsman's Club of Tinley Park played at Flossmoor where they lost a heartbreaker, 2-0. The hits were evenly divided at eight each, but Tinley could not bunt enough together to score.

The best scoring opportunity the Tinley club had came in the first inning on singles by Les Beccue, Wes Landau, and Don Kuech. However, Beccue was cut down at the plate by the center fielder's throw after Kuech had singled there.

Flossmoor scored their first and winning run in the second inning. The No. 4 batter Dewey struck out but reached base when the ball went thru the catcher to the screen. A triple by Nank, the next batter was enough to provide the winning run for Flossmoor club.

Mat Show on Fall Festival Card at Tinley

Members of the Tinley Park
Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring a wrestling match to be staged as part of the fall festival planned for the village.

The match, as it is referred to in grunt and groan trade circles, will find Carl Engstrom in the role of hero against one of the choice villains of the industry - Gypsy Joe, whose repre-tise includes practically every un-copyrighted trick in the book dealing with mayhem and torture.

The attraction is to be staged the night of Sept. 3, and according to Henry Bettenhausen who is in charge, the arrangements will be handled different this year so that everyone will have an opportunity to see the bout.
Last year the view was blocked for those away from ringside spots, but Mr. Bettenhausen says everyone will have a chance to see this year.

Tickets for the bout will be distributed later, probably thru the merchants.

To return to the bout the affair is to be run on a two out of three falls basis but the boys, and the fans, are protected in that under any circumstances it will not run longer than an hour.

"How do you get her to cook in this weather?"

"Easy, I got her a new electric range!"

Keep your kitchen 10 degrees cooler with a new electric range!

Recent impartial baking tests (made by independent engineers of the R. W. Hunt Company) prove that modern electric ranges keep your kitchen an average of 10 degrees cooler than the most modern flame type ranges.

New Share-The-Cost Installation Plan saves you important money. Own an electric range for as low as $2.16 a week—installed!

Al: "Well, I know they're a lot cooler to cook on, but..."

Bill: "Man, that's not the half of it! Ann says our new electric's just as fast as any other kind. And it sure is cleaner. Haven't had to wash the kitchen walls once since we got it!"

Al: "Sounds kinda rich for my blood. What'd it set you back?"

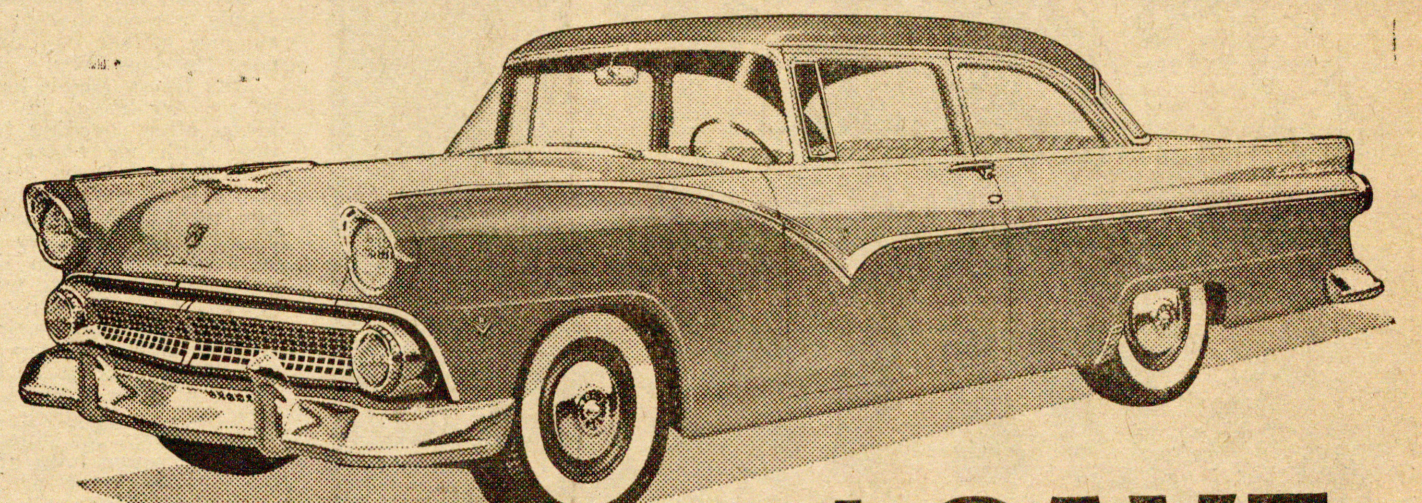

Bill: "Not so much. We're paying it off a couple of bucks a week. Besides, they brought in 240-volt wiring when they put in the range."

And boy, do we need it with all the appliances we've added. Hey, here comes the coffee!"

HOME BUREAU PREPARES FOR NAT'L. COUNCIL

Members of the Illinois home bureau federation are busy making plans for the 20th annual national home demonstration council meeting scheduled for Aug. 21 - 25 in Chicago.

According to Mrs. Milton Vaupel, Ashton, president, Illinois home bureau federation, over 3,000 members from all over the country are planning to attend the conference. Many counties in Illinois are planning to charter buses in order to attend the sessions for one or more days.

Since Illinois will serve as hostess for the event, committee chairmen have been chosen from various counties throughout the state and women from their areas have been asked to help. Mrs.

Elmer Ekdahl, Aurora, is general chairman, and Mrs. Leo J. Quinn, Henry, is co-chairman for the meeting.

A special guest of the NHDC throughout the week will be Mrs. Alice M. Berry, Queensland, Australia, who is president of the Associated Country Women of the World.

The national home demonstration council works with the United States department of agriculture and the land-grant colleges to provide opportunity for homemakers to pool their judgment and experience for the improvement of home and community life.

The press and are meets Penny Flame* they impressed!

Q. Now, Miss Flame, who'd you say is sponsoring you?

A. NORTHERN ILLINOIS GAS COMPANY has chosen me as their new symbol.

Q. You're sort of a mascot then?

A. Heavens no! Much more important than that!

Q. Well, just what is your job?

A. To help lighten the housework of thousands of homemakers in Northern Illinois.

Q. Sure a little thing like you can handle such a big order?

A. Oh, yes! You see, I never tire or wear out. I guess you could call me a "steady flame".

Q. Just exactly what are your duties?

A. Oh, I heat water...cook meals...dry clothes...and all the other jobs that only Gas can do so well!

Q. Hold on! You must cost a pretty penny, Penny. Excuse me! I mean Miss Flame.

A. That's the surprise! Fact is, I'm happy to do all this work for less...much less!

Q. What sort of plans do you have for the future, ma'am?

A. From time to time I'd like to report on the very latest in modern living...the modern GAS appliance way.

Q. We've heard you're a pretty quiet sort. How about that? Sounds impossible for a woman!

A. Oh, but it's true, sir. I never make a sound when I'm at work. Wouldn't you enjoy a silent refrigerator in your house?

Q. How about that, fellas? I can hardly wait to tell my wife about quiet little Penny Flame.

A. Small but mighty, gentlemen!

That's for sure, Penny. And you can always count on the press for our vote of confidence!

We have disposed of the government's war-built synthetic rubber plants at a net profit to the taxpayers of $10 million. They cost $128 million to build and an additional $132 million in operating and non-operating deficits - a total outlay of $260 million. The government sold 25 of the 27 rubber plants for $270 million, making a cash profit of $10 million plus the two plants held as government stand-by experimental laboratories.

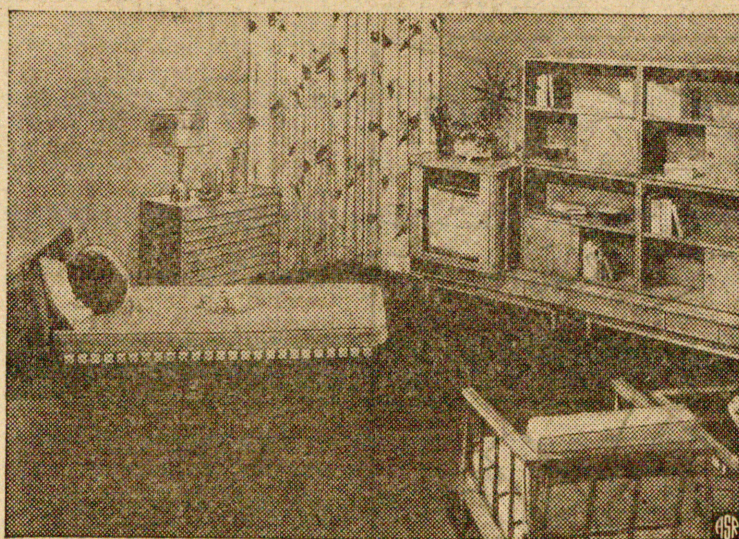

We have made real progress in getting the federal government out of competition with private business. Nearly 100 business enterprises have been shut down after operating for years. Others have been sold to private concerns, and still others have been leased to commercial concerns on a contract basis. This has been done to fulfill the pledge made in the Republican campaign of 1952.

The three major accomplishments in these fields have been:

1. The liquidation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation;
2. The sale of the Inland Wa-

Style influences from around the world are the new fashions shown at the summer furniture markets.

Shown above is the simplicity of Danish styling. This grouping is one of the most versatile collections of living, dining and bedroom furniture.

Not only are these units interchangeable from room to room, but within a room, and with each other. They bring an unusual and pleasant architectural aspect to our homes. For this custom look, base pieces are individual units, separate from cabinets and drawer chests, creating a free scaling variation about the room. The base units may also be used as benches or coffee tables. Note the extra storage space in the three drawers of the base units.

The wood is walnut, finished to have a hand-rubbed sheen, which allows the full beauty of the wood to show through—an increasing trend in new furniture styles.

Sliding drawers in the chests are reversible—one side is a walnut finish, and the other side is a dramatic black panel.

New fashion touches are the louvred drawer fronts on case pieces, and the tamboured cabinet for either Television or Hi-Fi.

terways Corporation for $9 million; and

3. The sale of the 15 synthetic rubber plants at a profit of $10 million.

Small transactions made in these fields are:

1. A century of coffee roasting and grinding by the government has been ended.

2. The defense department has closed two sawmills, seven bakeries, two clothing repair shops, six laundries, seven automobile repair shops, five cement-mixing plants, three ice houses, and one tire-retreading shop.

3. Private contractors now wash the windows of government buildings in 22 cities, handle all janitor work in 16 cities, wash and repair government cars in the nation's capitol, and transport and deliver supplies and equipment to government agencies in both Washington and New York - all at a great saving to U. S. taxpayers.

"Sugar and Spice"

Stalin's successors at Moscow have adopted a new approach to the world situation. This new approach can be characterized by the old nursery rhyme, "Sugar and spice and all things nice; that is what (Communist leaders) are made of."

Joe Stalin played the part of the villain in world affairs. His successors are attempting to play the part of peaceful, friendly, well-intentioned collaborationists intent upon peaceful co-existence with the western world. However, it is very difficult to determine what their real purpose might be. We must wait and see; but, in the meantime, we should keep our guard up.

European nations, on the other hand, seem ready to accept at face value the new soft policy of the Russian leaders. To accept at face value the statements of the Russian leaders, after 20 years of broken promises and double talk from them, is the silliest kind of wishful thinking. We should beware of Russian wolves when they put on sheep's clothing.

Molotov in his recent speech at San Francisco, said, in effect: "All right, you can have an end of the cold war whenever you like. All you need to do is: (a) Clear out your troops from Germany; (b) Withdraw your aid to Chiang-Ki-Chek; (c) Give Formosa to the Communists; and (d) Kick Nationalist China out of the US and give her place to Communist China."

Do we want to pay such a price?

Would that satisfy the Communists, or guarantee that they would keep the peace?

Having Tuberculosis and recovering from it seems to give people a chance for longer life than they might otherwise have, a study of life insurance statistics shows. The reason apparently is that the recovered patient takes better care of him self. Dr. Harry E. Ungerleider, New York, told the American College of Physicians.

ILLINOIS FARMERS LETTER

BY L. F. STICE
Dept. of Agricultural Economist
"Are We Raising Too Many Hogs?" is a question of vital concern to both grain and hog producers. Hog producers are concerned on two counts: They say hogs from the 1954 crop sell at $16 last winter, and they know that 1955 hog production is increasing.

Grain producers are concerned, or should be, because hogs provide the largest single market for corn and other feed grains. Stocks of corn, oats, barley and sorghum grains are now at record levels and are increasing. The only way to obtain a balance is by feeding more of these grains to livestock. But livestock producers will not use more grains unless they think it will be profitable to do so.

The USDA's answer. In a recent issue of "The Livestock and Meat Situation," agricultural economists of the USDA analyzed future hog prospects in this way:

Fall and Winter. "... prices will decline seasonally this fall and will be considerably lower than last fall. ... by winter, when recovery usually begins, prices may not be much different from the low levels of last winter."

First Half of 1956. "... supplies and prices of hogs will be at levels that allow no safety margin. Either higher prices for feed or reduced consumer demand for meat would cause distress in the hog industry."

The Supporting Evidence. Much of the supporting evidence for the USDA's forecast was presented in the June 29 issue of this letter, but here are some additional points:

If estimates of breeding intentions and pigs saved materialize, the 1955 U. S. pig crop will be 101 million head compared with 92.4 million in 1954. We have raised more hogs in only three other years - 105 million in 1942, 122 million in 1943 and 102 million in 1951.

However, the supply of pork per person may not increase as much as increases in hog production seem to indicate. With normal marketing of hogs, consumers may be called upon to eat only 1½ pounds more pork per person in 1956 than the 66 or 67 pounds they will consume this year. We ate 70½ pounds of pork per person in 1951 and 71½ pounds in 1952, but beef supplies are much larger now than then.

Prospects for Feed Prices and Consumer Demand. Barring droughts, the trend in feed prices during the next year or so will be lower. Carry-over stocks of feed grains are at record levels, 1955 crops are likely to be large, price supports on feed grains will be lower and competition from wheat will increase.

Whether consumer incomes will increase or even stay at present levels is more uncertain. If they do, farmers may be able to market at profits the larger production of hogs and other livestock that is needed to use the grain we are now producing.

Letting the water run all the time you are brushing your teeth is wasteful.
